

ONE OF BENNING TRACK OF BENNING TRACK

Garth, Cowies, and Several Others Will Remove Strings to Pimlico.

BALTIMORE COURSE
RIFE WITH ACTION
Trainers Kept Busy Putting on Finishing Touches for Coming Meet.

BALTIMORE, April 10.—Horsemen at Benning are complaining about the track there, and say the deep, sandy going is taking away the speed of the horses. It is likely that next week will see an exodus from Benning to Pimlico. "Farmer" Billy Scully, George Galvin, and J. S. Hoy will ship from Washington today. Tuesday Garth and Cowies will come over, and the others will follow at once.

Jimmy McLaughlin has notified John Brennan, the track superintendent, that he will be here Monday. McLaughlin's horses have been working well at Gravenstein, and they will be ready for the races.

The trainers at Pimlico were out in full force this morning, and despite the cold and windy weather got in some good work. Captain Presgrave had his stable out in three sets, but nothing in the way of fast work was attempted, only useful gallops. Gwyn Tompkins has his eagle eye on the captain's older division, and is picking out the likely timber for jumpers. It is very much hoped that the appearance of Rockawalkin, and believes he would make a great timber topper. Presgrave, however, says it will be time enough to put Rockawalkin over the jumps after he has won a few races on the flat.

Follow Trials Closely.
William Jennings was out giving his personal attention to his horses. Care Adams, who is back to himself again and the best looking horse at the track, was breezed three-quarters in 1:19, doing the trick with utmost ease. A couple of the Jennings two-year-olds got three-quarters in 1:20.

Col. "Bobb" Neville had his jumpers on the track, and after schooling them sent them away for useful gallops. Charley Douglas had Courtney Smith's "leppers," out just for an airing. There are rumors at the track concerning a wonderful green jumper in this stable, which is said to be the best ever. Gwyn Tompkins had Jimmy Lane, Sunglow, and Kuroki out, and galloped them a couple of miles at a two-minute gait. Tompkins is slated over Kuroki, a fine bodied horse on rather slender underpinning.

The best moves of the morning were made by Golden Castle and Claire Russell, which breezed three-quarter in 1:16. Golden Castle is a much improved colt, and if he is not drilled to death should win a race at the meeting.

Beale breezed Golden Castle and Profusion a mile in 1:20 2-5, a wonderfully good move for two jumpers. Margaret, from the Beale stable, was timed in 1:20 1-4. The filly has grown and filled out during the winter. Proclivity and Racilia breezed three-quarter together in 1:18 and under nooses apiece.

Maxim Gun Primed.
Harry Rites had Tim Pippin out, and gave him a handy three-quarter in 1:19 1-4. Boyle had Smoker and Maxim Gun on the track, but only galloped them. Both of these horses are looking finely, and Maxim Gun is nearly up to a race. Old Edgely was on the track, and breezed three-quarter in 1:19. Here is another that is about ready.

The famous old racer, Malabar, by Dutch Roller, which William Jennings, the St. Valentine, has turned out, is now using as a buggy horse, makes an ideal animal in that capacity. He is as steady as a clock and will stand anywhere except when he gets a sign of the race course. The call of the track is too much for him, and it becomes necessary to unhitch him and lead him away.

Stewart Dufferin was at the track this morning driving the twenty-year-old stallion St. Mark, the sire of St. Jeanne. St. Mark was lost to view for a while, but when St. Jeanne turned out so well, St. Mark was brought back up and, finding him doing farm work in Delaware, bought him. He now has him in his stable. St. Jeanne has been to him this season. St. Jeanne is a royally bred one by St. Blaise, dam Black Maria, by Imperial Bonnie, Scotland.

Colonel Neville is very confident that Hercule will train all right this season. As good a judge as Gwyn Tompkins, said this morning: "It is all over if Hercule trains, the rest of us will be nowhere. He is the best in the business."

SIZE OF BASEBALL
IS FIXED BY RULE
Publication of Code Recalls Days When No Standard Was Enforced.

The publication of the baseball rules for 1939 brings to mind the fact that only within the past few years the size and weight of a baseball have been standardized.

Even in the past decade of professional baseball the use of any style of ball was permissible as far as league regulations were concerned. As a consequence no two balls were alike.

The demand for a ball of uniform size and weight, hard and lively, and guaranteed to last nine innings, was met by the Reach baseball. At the present time the Reach ball is the standard ball of the American and National Leagues.

The carnival committee will announce the vote standing of the candidates next Saturday morning, and from then they will announce them every morning until the close of the contest on April 24.

Meetings of the executive committee of the "homecoming week" are being held every evening at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, when all committees who desire any information can receive it. The committee is now before the executive committee. At the meeting last evening the following were appointed a committee on route of parade: A. D. Brockett, Dr. W. M. Smith, M. P. Greene, W. A. Smoot, Jr., and J. V. Williams.

The transportation committee reported that they have secured the steamer "Queen" to take the parade from Washington to Alexandria on April 30.

The civic improvement league in Alexandria is holding a "homecoming week" which is being held every evening at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, when all committees who desire any information can receive it. The committee is now before the executive committee. At the meeting last evening the following were appointed a committee on route of parade: A. D. Brockett, Dr. W. M. Smith, M. P. Greene, W. A. Senator Bailey Wants to Eliminate Civil Service in Census Bill.

tee will make strenuous efforts to have the Senate conference see the error of their way.

One member of the House expressed the opinion today that the amendment is clearly unconstitutional, but that, unfortunately, if it remained in the bill, it would deprive the residents of Washington of the right to seek work before the point could be settled in the courts.

He is determined, however, to see the matter through to a finish, and if the House conferees cannot gain their point he will bring a conference, if necessary, to a vote on the bill. He is confident that the case will be taken to the courts.

Disfranchises Many.
It is pointed out that the amendment not only deprives hundreds of residents of Washington of the right to take a civil service examination, but that it actually disfranchises them in that the amendment, carried to its logical conclusion, means that a person who has been engaged in any business or employment in Washington for a period of more than twelve months and because of that employment has been absent from his native State is no longer a resident or voter in that State.

The amendment provides that applicants for employment in the Census Bureau must have been residents of a State for twelve months prior to the date of filing of application. It would force competitive examination on a great number of people who have been in the Government service in Washington, and who have been studying during the past year, pending order to fill themselves for the census examination.

Causes Bitter Debate.
In the course of the consideration of the census bill, bitter attacks were made on the civil service system. For five hours Friday afternoon, the Senate discussed the bill. The civil service law and the system of making promotions in the departments came in for sharp criticism.

Senator William Alden Smith stirred up something of a sensation by saying: "I know of cases in which women clerks are humiliated because they will not permit a party chief to take the liberties with them."

Senators Clapp, Scott, Bailey, Gallinger, and Bacon denounced the operation of the law.

Senator La Follette said the records of the Civil Service Commission and of the departments showed that a vast number of persons had been promoted to various States in which they had never resided and that it was to correct abuses of this character that an amendment had been reported providing that a person must have an actual residence in the State in which he took the examination.

Senator Root made his maiden speech in the course of the debate and urged that in the consideration of the bill, regard be had to the relation of this building to the general proposition of the betterment of Washington. He was given close attention.

ROBERT S. BARRETT, Chairman of Publicity Committee.

formed the committee that its members would assist the committee in cleaning up the streets of Alexandria for old homecoming week.

Mrs. Smith, mother of J. Edgar Smith, of the Interstate Commerce Commission of Washington, died at the Alexandria Hospital here last evening. Her remains will be sent to Washington by Undertaker Demaree.

The will of Frank Walker was admitted to probate in the circuit court of Alexandria city today. He leaves his entire estate to his wife.

The Elks Dramatic Club will, by special request, present the play "A Debt of Honor," at the Opera House in this city, on Friday evening, April 14.

The police have received complaints from storekeepers that their bread boxes are being robbed nightly. The latest complaint comes from Roberts & Alexander, in North Columbus street.

A meeting of the city Democratic committee was held last evening, when it was decided to hold the city primary to nominate officers for the candidates for the city offices on May 18. April 25 was selected as the latest date at which candidates can present themselves. The only city officer who will have opposition so far as known is City Sergeant Robert H. Cox, who will be opposed by John McCuen.

No date was fixed for the holding of a primary to nominate candidates for the house of delegates.

Judge Barley, being still absent from the city, it is not thought that a special grand jury will be summoned for Monday, as announced by Commonwealth's Attorney Brent. It is thought, however, that the grand jury will meet some day next week and take up the case of the four men held in connection with the murder of Walter Schultz, the Chicago artist.

Total loans are $1,220,945,500.
The surplus of the banks last year was $54,154,250, and two years ago, $23,582,000.

LOBBY WORKS HARD FOR LUMBER TARIFF

Strong efforts are being made, by the lumber lobby which has been active in Washington all winter to have the Senate increase the lumber duty to 2%.

In spite of the efforts of the supporters of a high duty on lumber, it was predicted today by a member of the Senate Finance Committee that when the bill came out it would retain the House provision for 1% duty on lumber.

President, However, Considers That Senate Will Really Make Law.

FIGHT ON TARIFF SHIFTS TO SENATE

The Senate session had barely opened at noon today, when the Payne tariff bill, passed by the House last night, was introduced. Senator Aldrich was on hand to move that the bill be referred to the Finance Committee. The bill was promptly referred and 3,000 extra copies were ordered printed for the use of the Senate.

Senator Cullom presented to the Senate the monster petition which was prepared through the efforts of Chicago club women, protesting against increased duties on gloves and hosiery. It represents the sentiments of 250,000 homes in Chicago.

It is expected the Finance Committee will report the Payne tariff bill to the Senate Monday, and not later than Tuesday. The House hopes of Senator Aldrich to report it Monday, but this may be impossible. Senator Aldrich asked the Democrats on the Finance Committee to consent to a meeting Sunday, but they were unwilling to do so.

Aldrich To Rush Bill.
They were disposed to wait at least three days to consider the substituted bill. The measure which Senator Aldrich and his Republican colleagues on the committee are preparing. Senator Aldrich, however, does not intend to brook any delay in getting the bill reported out. After the bill is reported he is desirous of beginning the discussion early.

The majority members of the committee are putting in long hours, working night and day, and have adjusted many of the schedules. They are devoting most of their time today to completing the work of fixing the rates. The committee has been beset with applications for hearings, but has been obliged to curtail these, and the hearings are now practically at an end.

Debate May Be Brief.
Senators differ in opinion as to the time that will be required for consideration of the bill in the Senate. Some of the Republicans are of the opinion that the bill will be passed without a vote. But with President Taft urging that the bill be hurried to passage and with a number of the Democratic Senators lukewarm, on account of the fact they want protection for some of the interests of the States. It is likely the debate will not be unduly prolonged. The talk about the Capitol now is that the first of June will see the bill passed and in the hands of the President for his signature.

As in the House, there will be a great struggle over lumber, hides, oil, barley, the drawback provisions and the minimum and maximum features of the bill. The inheritance tax feature will be bitterly opposed and probably defeated and a powerful effort will be made to get an income tax law passed.

Insurgents To Oppose.
It is predicted that the chief struggle against the bill will come from insurgent Republicans. Talk is that Senator Beveridge will attack some of the provisions of the bill that seem to him to increase the burden of the average family with respect to the necessities of life.

President Taft has scored a victory for the Philippine Islands in inducing the Finance Committee to accept the provision of the Payne bill for the free admission of 300,000 gross tons annually of sugar from the islands. This decision was reached after the subcommittee which has been considering the sugar schedule had gone to the White House with Charles B. Warren, general counsel of the Michigan Sugar Company, and confirmed the fact that an agreement had been made between him and Mr. Taft last fall in accordance with the provision of the Payne bill.

This agreement has been severely attacked by some of the best sugar men lately, but Mr. Warren insists that in making the agreement he fulfilled the wishes of most of the beet sugar interest.

The Finance Committee has adopted a free act amendment to the bill. Senators Lodge and Aldrich have been committing for this. The effect will be to admit all art works free. The glove and hat schedule will not be increased above the "Dingle" rates. It laid the reciprocity clause as to coal will be eliminated from the bill.

HOUSE FILE CLERK WILLIAMS EXPIRES

Succumbs at the Pennsylvania Club Early This Morning.

From the time he cast his first ballot, which was for President Garfield, he had been active in the politics of his party in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties of Pennsylvania.

At one time he served as chairman of the first legislative district of Luzerne county, which included the city of Wilkesbarre. For a short time he served as deputy recorder of the same county.

His Funeral Tomorrow.
Funeral services will be held at the Pennsylvania Club at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Rev. Dr. Dunlap, assistant rector of St. John's, will officiate. The remains will be taken to Scranton, Pa., on the 1 o'clock train tomorrow afternoon. Burial will take place in that city at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The pallbearers will be W. A. Andrews, chairman of the Republican State committee of Pennsylvania; F. H. Rainey, chief clerk of the money order division of the postoffice; Herman Phillips, general clerk of the House of Representatives; Louis Strayer, of the Pittsburgh Dispatch; Edgar Snyder, of the Pittsburgh Times-Dispatch; Hugh Nesbit, of the Kansas City Times; and James Henry, of the Philadelphia Press.

His appointment as file clerk of the House was requested by the entire Republican Congressional Committee and other members of the House. He was a delegate from Luzerne county to the Pennsylvania to the last Republican national convention.

Mr. Williams was a member of the Pen and Pencil Club of Philadelphia, of the Scranton Press Club, the National Press Club of Washington, and secretary of the Scranton Lumber and Coal Company. He made his home in Washington at the Pennsylvania Club.
